Discussion regarding delaying effective date and 1-time increase of street parking in South Beach.

I want to further discuss the implementation of this item and the communications failure that accompanied it. Although the policy of increasing fees for non-resident street parking in South Beach is sound and should remain, how it is implemented and how the public is educated needs to be reevaluated before effective. Furthermore, I have been advised that there have been administrative changes to parking time maximums as well. This matter is time-sensitive and should be addressed asap.
