“We invite all residents to be an integral part of the G.O. Bond conversation as we discuss the prioritization of projects and collect feedback on what projects matter most to each of them,” said Mayor Dan Gelber.

A G.O. Bond is a way of financing the cost of physical improvements to the City’s neighborhoods, streets, parks, beaches, public safety facilities and other facilities. G.O. Bonds are paid solely from property taxes, and are used to fund projects that do not produce enough revenue to pay off the bonds. These bonds may only be issued if approved by a majority of voters voting in a City-wide referendum.
