

Omar Leon
Architecture Student Graduating Class of 2020
Design and Architecture Senior High

Omar Leon is a junior in the architecture program at DASH (Design and Architecture Senior High). He is developing a design and fine art portfolio for college in order to pursue architecture. Omar has completed five Advanced Placement (AP) courses and three Dual Enrollment courses including Art History, Drawing and Painting Portfolio. He is a member and officer of the DASH Architecture Club, Book Club and National Honor Society. Omar is also an active member of the French and Spanish Honor Societies, and the Environmental Club. Other than involvement in school, he contributes much of his time to his community. Omar initiated a service project collecting art supplies for 40 underprivileged children in a shelter in his hometown in Colombia where he held art classes for two weeks. He is also a summer camp counselor for the City of Miami Shores. Omar has received Scholastic Awards for writing and painting. Most recently he was hand selected to receive a full scholarship to Parsons New School of Design Pre-College where this summer he will be studying fashion construction for three college credits.
